The Ox Blue Thunder by Ox Bodies, Inc. is just right for the harsh environments of the Winter months and beyond. The Ox Blue Thunder comes standard with Hardox 450 (1/8" or 3/16") and corrosion-resistant continuous welds with the option of a heated understructure to keep materials flowing smoothly throughout the year.

The outstanding performance characteristics of Hardox wear plate come from a combination of hardness, strength and toughness. As a result, Hardox can stand up to sliding, impact and squeezing wear. Its high strength and hardness often allows for a thinner plate (less weight), enabling a higher payload and better fuel economy.

For more information about Ox Blue Thunder and other Ox dump bodies with Hardox 450, please contact your Ox Bodies Inside Sales Team or Territory Manager.

GETTING NOTICED ... THE OX SUPERDUMP

TRAILER-BODY BUILDERS' MARKET WATCH
The weekly update for the truck, body, trailer, and truck equipment industry.
November 22, 2008 A Benton Media Publication Vol. 15, No. 54

OX BODIES UNVEILS SUPERDUMP TO BOOST PAYLOAD
Ox Bodies has released the new Ox SuperDump, with the reliability and ruggedness of its normal dump body but with four-, six- or seven-axle configurations that will increase payload by up to 26 tons and 80,000 GVWR (in most states). A bigger load with fewer trucks means fewer trips and more savings.

Introducing the Ox SuperDump in November was perfect timing. Check out the feature in Trailer-Body Builders' "Market Watch" Report.
